Principal's Message

The theme of our yearbook this year is "The Best of Times." For high school to be the best of times for you requires that you make some effort, some commitment of yourself. It is a truism that the more you put into it the more you will get out of it. The staff who produced this excellent yearbook are good examples of students giving their time, energy and skill on behalf of the entire student body. yet at the same time their own personal gain is immeasurable. In terms of the satisfaction of a job well done, in terms of the friendships made, and especially in terms of the memories generated, the production of this book has been a once-in-a-lifetime experience.

In years to come a yearbook will bring back memories for everyone, but for a yearbook staff it brings back very special memories of perhaps - the best of times.

Students' Union

FIRESIDE CHAT WITH THE PRESIDENT:

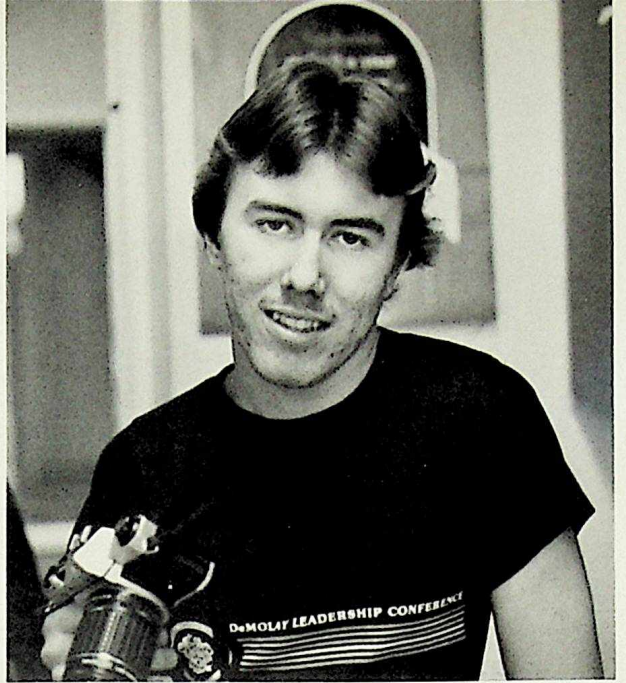

Another year crawls closer to an end. For me, Students' Union has been not only a responsibility, but a fun experience. At times, it was wondering if enough people would show at a dance or an activity day, but that makes it more interesting. I would like to extend my thanks to the whole student council on their fine work and support - I would also like especially to thank Mr. MacDormand for his help and understanding, and congratulate him on an excellent year as "rookie" advisor. On behalf of the council I thank Mr. Nixon and the staff for their support and understanding of missed classes. I also thank the student body for their spirit and enthusiasm, making this a truly great 25th anniversary year at Shep. Thank-you and good luck to all grads and T-birds we leave behind.

INTERVIEW WITH THE EDITOR

Interviewer: Would you say this year's book is a good one?

Editor: Well, for sure. There's a cover with pages in between. I think that's what I'm most proud of. The rest just sort of followed.

Interviewer: Did you do everything yourself?

Editor: Yes, well okay, no, if you must pry. There was a core of hard working staff, as well the much-needed advice and dry shoulders of Mr. Jones and Mrs. Lindenburg.

Interviewer: Anything else?

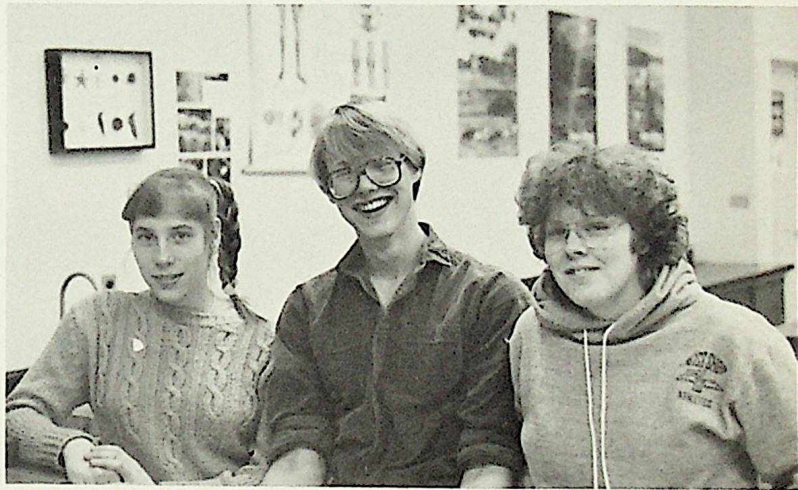

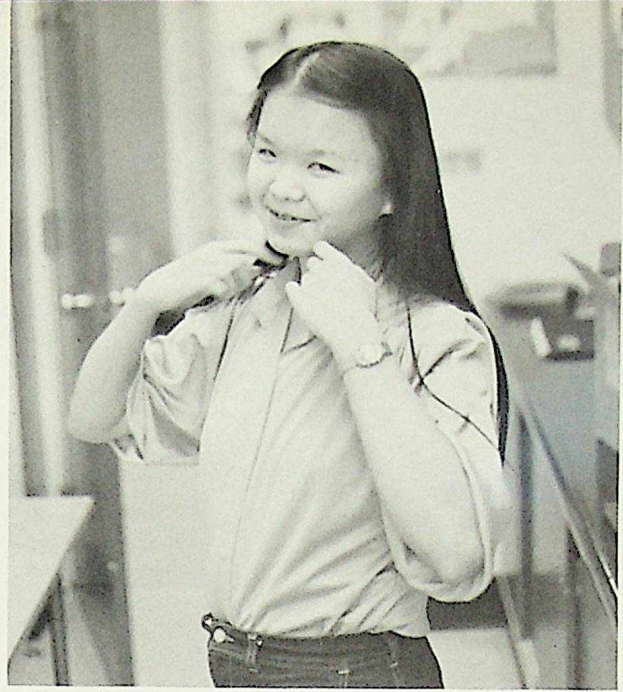

Editor: Yes, We tried to do some things different. It is our hope that as you look back at the yearbook many years from now, memories are stirred which accurately recall your experience at Ross Sheppard.

Interviewer: That's Very good.

Editor: Thanx, I had the copy team write that up.

Interviewer: Goodday.

CLOCKWISE FROM ABOVE: BEAUTY AND THE BEAST, Mr. Jones and Mrs. Lindenburg, Yearbook Advisors. Editor and Art Editor discussing latest projects. Sandra Der, Cheryl Podemski, Kurt Schrempf, Darlene Cox, Nicola Auty, Assistant Editor.

Grad Council

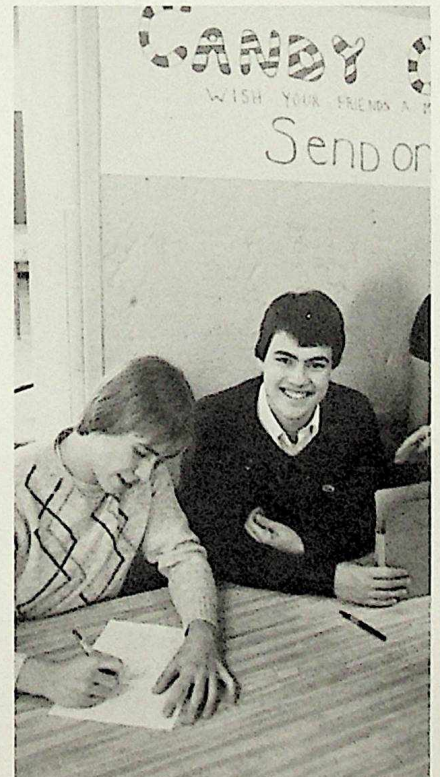

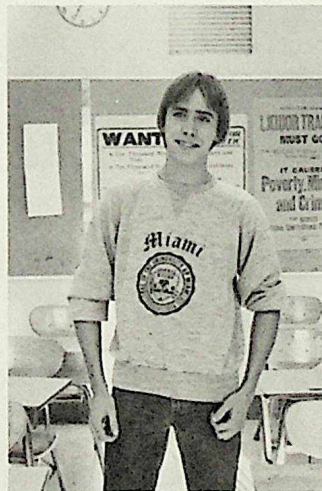

The first-plateau of our education ends this year and it is fitting that it culminate with the graduation exercises.

All members of the grad council extends best wishes to all grads for success in the years to come.

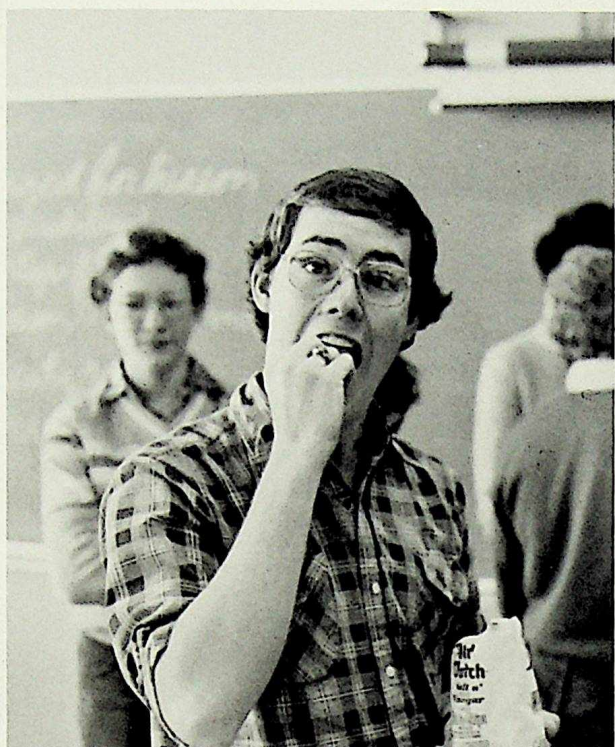

I would like to extend my personal thanks to all the grad committees for a job well-done.

FOLLOW YOUR DREAMS

See all the people
You can tell by the look in their eyes
It's not easy to say goodbye

We've spent the last three years here
Some of us more
But this is what we've all been going for

In the beginning, it was so big
That it made us feel small
But by the end we knew we'd had it all

Some times were good
And some times were bad
But we'll always remember these times we had

But now you've got to
FOLLOW YOUR DREAMS
There's a world out there and it's waiting for you
FOLLOW YOUR DREAMS
And don't you ever stop to look behind you
FOLLOW YOUR DREAMS
For as you dream your dreams you shall become

On the road ahead
Take care as your moving along
Don't stop to wonder if you're right or wrong

You'll make the right decisions
It will all work out in the end
But LIVE; 'cause you won't take this road again

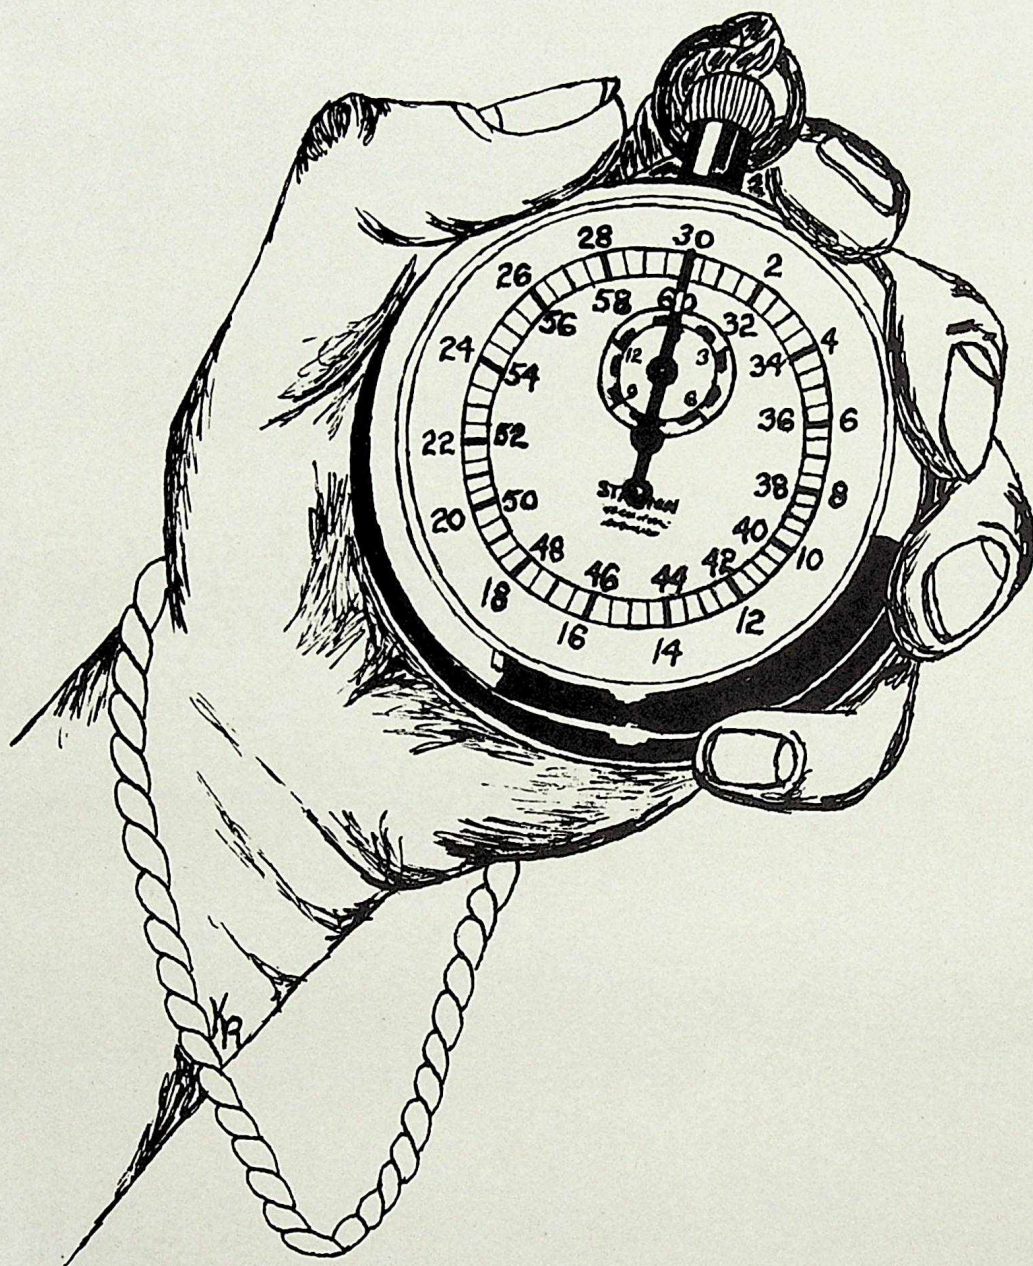

Come on and
FOLLOW YOUR DREAMS
There's a world out there and it's waiting for you
FOLLOW YOUR DREAMS
And don't you ever stop to look behind you
FOLLOW YOUR DREAMS
For as you dream your dreams you shall become

Oh, I'm going to miss every face
All the walls and floors and corridors
Every memory of this place
You know it's the hardest line to cross
When you're lost and you don't know what you'll find

I can't believe it's over
But I know in my heart
From the one's you love you'll never be apart
And so the years may pass
And you'll be out on your own
If you ever come back you know you'll be coming home

But now you've got to
FOLLOW YOUR DREAMS

SPORTS

Juniors

What can we say? The Junior team went through the regular season without a loss, and continued their touch in the finals, winning the championship in impressive style. After being down 21-0 in the first half, they came back to pull off a 28-21 victory, showing why they were the champions. For junior football, these were the best of times.

GENESIS

Reigning, in a realm refused man,
Save him garbed in nameless faith,
An unborn, undying power stirs to novel discontent
Arousing virgin need, the faint disquiet of potential impotent
Essence, devoid of material being, and hence, acknowledgement.
And God saw that it was good.

Light, He created, a reflection of His own radiance,
Perfect, exact, infinite in shade, and unified,
Scattered sparkling in bright random diffusion
Through His universe; two greater lights He whirled, set in revolution:
Brilliant, fiery orbs forever spinning in ceaseless convolution.
And God saw that it was good.

Warmth, He lavished on the shriveled, frigid earth,
Scooped hollows in the brazen sphere
Where water boiled and tumbled, and on the land He placed
Green growing things, stretching and yearning upwards into space,
Wind-dancing with fragile leaves beseeching, opened to receive His grace.
And God saw that it was good.

Fauna, He conceived, in every form:
Even as He imagined them, so the fresh green earth
Was peopled - tiny insects fluttering on prismatic, transparent wings,
Four-leggeds, wildly carousing, shaking the earth in joyous galloping
Frenzy, rainbow-scaled fish flashing in the sea, and birds pinion-wheeled, hovering.
And God saw that it was good.

Man He fashioned last, of clay,
A little dirt and dung, moistened with spit
Lest he dare aspire to pride. Cleave his baser nature to earth, yet put the breath
Divine also in him - an amusing contradiction: hunger and terror for that beyond death,
A legacy: worship born of debt, creation striving to conquer what Creator has bequeathed.
And God saw that it was very, very good.

WHERE THERE IS A DREAM

Where there is a dream for you
There is a path for you
Where there is a goal for you
There is a way

Where there is a moment
There is a time for you
Even though your time is here
But yet, so far away.

Our dreams shall become reality
With one step towards the door
This step though will prepare us for what is in store.

Often we will think about
The good old days
The graduates shall laugh
About their adolescent ways.

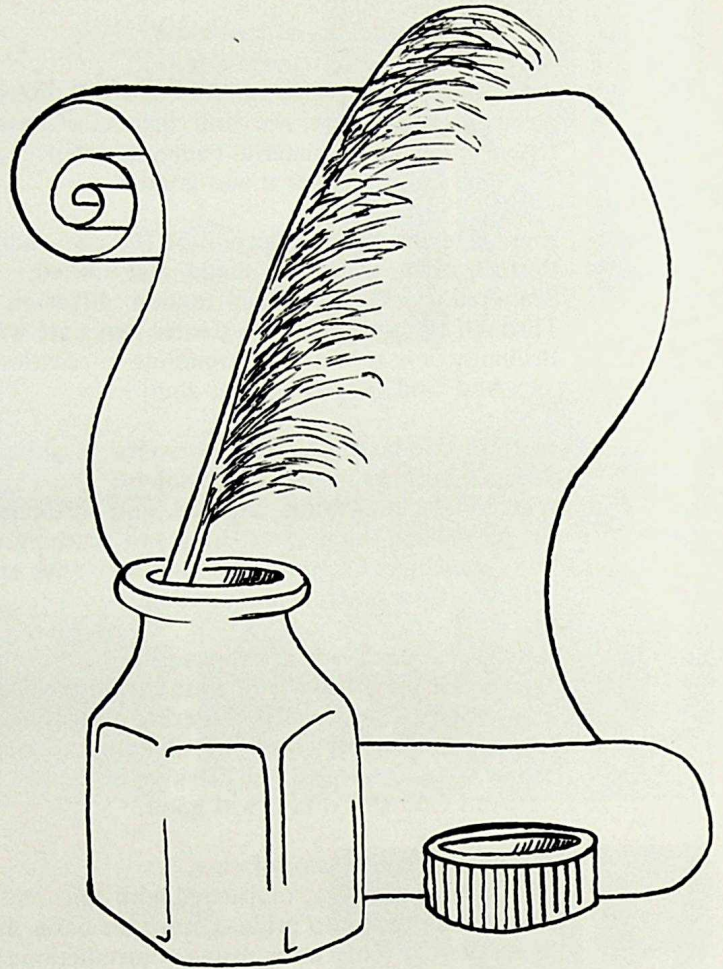

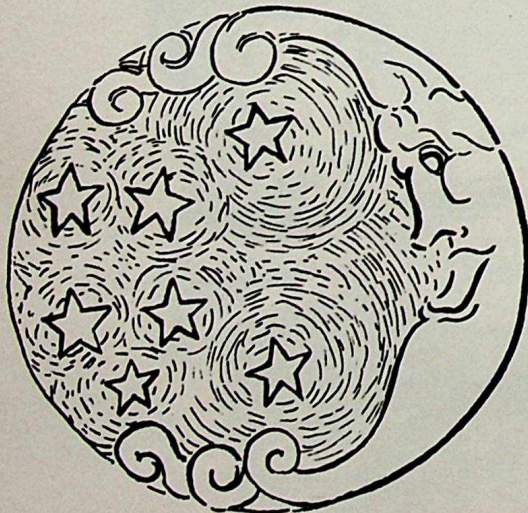

Strange we should leave here
Seeing off our friends
It's so hard to draw the line
Between the beginning and the End.

We will look back at the empty hallways
Filled with the memories of love
Those memories shall guide us far
From above.

Those memories shall give us

The courage to fulfill our dreams
So follow your dreams
For as you dream
You shall become

ANOMALY

"Strange!"
they shouted.

"No, just unfamiliar"
I replied

They called again
"Abnormal"

"no, exceptional"

"Unusual"

"only uncommon"

"Peculiar"

"no, just irregular"

"Freak!"

"No, rare"

"Misfit!"

"No, Unique"
but sometimes I wonder.

MARKING YOUR BIRTH

Adding one more year
to that eternal book of life seems like such a little thing
Until you look back through the chapters of your life.

Remember when you were just a little girl
not caring about tomorrow
only worrying about today and what it holds.

Those certainly were the days
freedom and gaiety
the shyness of everyone feels going out on that first date with the boy you never dreamed of.

And now all of a sudden you're another year older (and perhaps another year wiser) behind you, lay a number of years of growth and wisdom.

Tomorrow will mark another page in the book of life
for each moment is gone
only the ashes remain
within the furious of your memory.

ACTIVITIES

Car Rally

We're pleased to say that no deaths or serious injuries resulted from the car rally, and apart from an accident and a speeding ticket, everyone came through with FLYING colors. Gareth Davies and Jon Buchwald raced from a deep-time deficit to win. Over $700 was raised for grad.

Penny Relay

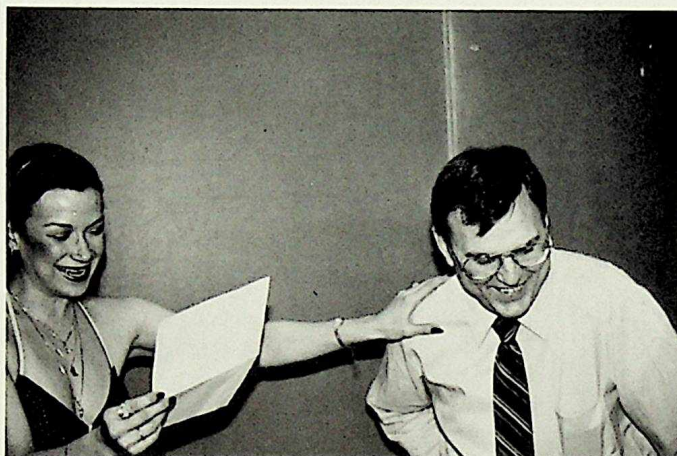

Once again the penny relay was a success, and once again it was shown that the grade 12's have the most spirit and good-will. The 11's made a respectable showing, as did the grade 10's, but the teachers were dismal. Over $300.00 was raised.

Mr. Hunt's Christmas Present

One of the highlights of Christmas this year was the present given to Mr. Hunt by his period five class. Mr. Hunt was overwhelmed with gratitude and thoroughly enjoyed his present. (Note: anyone failing chemistry may contact Mrs. Hunt at ...)

José Granera, born December 25th, 1970, lives in Managua, Nicaragua. He has been the Ross Sheppard foster child for three years. This year, Shep students pulled together in the Penny Relay and the Candy Cane sale to raise money for José. Remember José loves you.

February, 1981

Esteemed and Appreciated Foster Sister:

My desire is that you are enjoying good health with your family, and with my other 1,500 foster siblings. I wish you much happiness during your holidays. We will soon go on vacation from school. Paula, I'd like to receive a picture from you so I can know you better and have you in my heart and to receive a letter from you. Receive greetings from my parents. Kisses for all of you from your foster child and siblings. My family is anxious to know you even by picture.

I'll say goodbye to you with love. Until soon.

José Manuel

October 1981

Dear Foster Parent:

It's a great joy for me to be able to write you these few lines, to tell you of my love and fraternity.

After this humble greeting I tell you the following.

I send greetings to my foster siblings. I would like to write them all but since they are one thousand five hundred, I wouldn't have sufficient time. I send them greetings and I wish you a Happy New Year of 1982. I'll soon have another brother, and I'm happy. I'm going to ask you the favour of sending me a photo. I ask you for a photo in each of my letters.

I give you my farewell with love.

José Manuel Granera
